PROJECTS

Calorie Compass — AI-Powered Nutrition Tracking App Next.js · TypeScript · PostgreSQL · OpenAI APIs · Vercel
Live: calorie-compass-chi.vercel.app · GitHub: github.com/TyCodes101/calorie-compass

- Built a deployed calorie and macro tracking app with conversational meal logging and a mobile-first dashboard experience.
- Designed assistant flows for natural food entry, correction handling, and clearer user feedback during meal logging.
- Implemented a trust-based nutrition approach that distinguishes verified food data from estimated values.
- Structured the product around practical user needs: speed, clarity, nutrition confidence, and responsive daily use.

Stride Fitness — Fitness / Productivity Web App Responsive Frontend · Product UX
Live: stride-step-tracker-tyler-cox-s-projects1.vercel.app

- Built a polished fitness-focused web experience centered on step tracking, daily progress, and simple habit visibility.
- Designed responsive UI patterns that keep the app usable across mobile and desktop screens.
